

Privacy Policy

By visiting our website, you are accepting and consenting to the practices described on this page.

What personal information do we gather through our website?

Information you give us

We receive and store any information you give us. We do not sell this information to any other party. Your payment information is not retained, unless you opt for this at the payment section. If you choose for this information to be stored, it is done so securely by our pay merchants, SagePay. You can choose not to provide certain information but then you might not be able to take advantage of particular features, such as asking the website to remember your personal information for future transactions.

We use the information that you provide for such purposes as processing your orders, responding to your requests, customising future shopping for you, improving our site, and communicating with you.

What information is shared, and with whom?

We only share information in order to supply services you have requested, such as dispatch and delivery information, ordering products, sending feedback, or subscribing to promotional email services.

As well as selling our own products, we distribute products by other publishers. If you have bought a product from a publisher we distribute, they may wish to contact you with offers on related products that may be of interest to you. For example, if you buy a Biblica Bible, Biblica may wish to contact you in the future regarding special offers on their Bibles. You are required to opt into this arrangement, so your details are not passed on to these publishers without your permission.

Automatic information

We receive and store certain types of information whenever you interact with us. For example, like many websites, we use "cookies" to obtain certain types of information when your Web browser accesses our website. A number of companies allow you to visit their website anonymously, and there are tools you can use to browse anonymously. However, cookies allow you to take full advantage of some of our most useful features and we recommend that you leave them turned on.

We use this information to pass order and payment details on for order processing, to communicate with you about orders, to update our records, to maintain your accounts with us, to display content such as customer reviews and to recommend merchandise that might be of interest to you. We also use this information to improve our site, and to prevent or detect fraud or abuse of our website.

More about cookies

Cookies are alphanumeric identifiers that enable our systems to recognise your Web browser. The Help button on the menu bar of most Web browsers will tell you how to prevent your browser from accepting new cookies, how to have the browser notify you when you receive a new cookie and how to disable cookies altogether. If you choose to allow cookies, be sure to sign off when you finish using a shared computer.

How secure is my personal information?

We work hard to protect the security of key information during transactions by using Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) software during payment, which encrypts any information you input. We reveal only the last four digits of your credit card number when confirming an order. We do not keep records of your credit card number once order processing is complete, unless you opt for your payment details to be remembered.

We maintain physical and electronic safeguards in connection with the collection, storage and disclosure of customer information. It is important for you to protect against unauthorised access to your account and to your computer. Be sure to log off when you finish using a shared computer.

Our privacy policy may change from time to time, but we will always let you know of any changes that are made. We strive for excellence and for your safety as you browse our site.

If you have any questions, or would like to change your preferences, please e-mail 10ofthose@10ofthose.com, or call us on 0330 2233 423.